ARTICLE: PRACTITIONER GRADE HERBAL MEDICINES

Stringent testing regimes by our manufacturers protects our patients against:

- substitution of species: one herb may be substituted for another less costly herb
- adulteration of herbs: a high quality and expensive herb may have a cheaper herb or even a pharmaceutical mixed in with it
- quality of herbs: herbs can vary enormously in quality and this means the effect you feel, can vary enormously.

Subsequently, the herbs we use in clinic are the CORRECT species, are the CORRECT plant part, have the CORRECT active constituent profile, and are FREE from contamination.
